From Roaming Hunger:

For over 30 years, the name Krimmer's has been synonymous to the best pizzas and hoagies in Cincinnati. Now, they're serving locals with that same old world charm in a new food truck roaming the North College Hill community.

Krimmer's Italianette Food Truck is owned and operated by Andrew Bartlett, an Army veteran who was born and raised in Cincinnati. He's keeping to the same family tradition: everything's prepared daily with the freshest ingredients. From hand-tossed dough and homemade sauces to grated cheese and freshly chopped vegetables, Andrew updates the regular old pizza to a new standard of excellence. Oh, and he's updated the menu too, with newly added calzones. Find Krimmer's Italianette and redefine your definition of what good Italian food really is. It's sure to exceed your expectations.
